N° 521 – English Edition – March 2005

WORD FROM FATHER GENERAL

On May 1st around the world the Company of Mary will begin to celebrate the 300th anniversary of the first step in its founding, the vocation of Brother Mathurin Rangepard. Let me base my reflections around an extraordinary homily given by Mgr Albert Rouet, Archbishop of Poitiers, at the opening of the Tercentenary of the Daughters of Wisdom in 2003. I quote the beginning of his homily:

An anniversary represents a dangerous moment to the extent that it can become the moment of treason. To honour can distort. One can make intensive historical studies, scrutinize the least biographical details, relentlessly try to reconstitute events, and lose the meaning of life and of the events. During an anniversary, thanks to colloquies, commemorative plaques and postage stamps, one can inaugurate a deviation most radically opposed to the intentions of the founder. Honouring is an incense that inebriates.

On the other hand, one can celebrate an anniversary by seeking, as Paul wrote to Timothy (2Tm 1,6) to revive, to rekindle the flame that still sleeps under the ashes after so many days and years, in such a way as to be dazzled by the same warmth, to burn with the same ardour and to contemplate the same brightness.

Thus celebrating an anniversary strips away the accidental or the superfluous that the centuries have brought, so as to rediscover the first sap, the original audacity that merited to create a work which, until this day, still endures under the diverse forms of the Daughters of Wisdom, the Brothers of Saint Gabriel and the Montfort Missionaries...

What are the roots that will make us live today and tomorrow? Where do we find the original sap and boldness of St. Louis-Marie? How can we avoid sentimental nostalgia that leaves us drunk with self-praise or stumbling away from Father de Montfort's dream? I have just returned from a two month trip around the world, a pastoral journey to Papua New Guinea, the Philippines, Canada and the United States. In a variety of places and people I found proof of the original sap of Montfort's vision still flowing, of heart-warming fires in the ashes.

Papua New Guinea and especially the Western Province where we work, by almost every measure, is at the end of the world. The Canadian Montfortians who began the mission there nearly 50 years ago pioneered the Gospel among stone-age tribes, travelling by river or on foot to remote villages. The vibrant church of the Diocese of Daru-Kiunga that exists today is a living memorial to the Daughters of Wisdom, Brothers of Saint Gabriel and Montfort Missionaries who lived and died there. But age and demographics have sought to put out the fire... With only two Canadian SMM remaining in PNG and no replacements on the horizon, it seemed like it was time to write the final chapter of a glorious history.

However, thanks to the Montfortian zeal of Bishop Gérard Deschamps and Bishop Gilles Côté, two Indian and four Indonesians confreres have joined the mission; for a brief time they were joined by a Filipino confrere. I was delighted to find these young confreres (nearly all of whom I had known as seminarians) engaged body and soul in difficult, challenging, frontline missionary work, filled with enthusiasm, creativity and fraternal affection. The pastoral plan of the diocese provides a compass for their activities, but they bring with them the style and flavour of the Montfortian mission; they embody its “four notes” of evangelization, Mary, availability and acting together. Responding to new realities, we moved to change the status of our mission in PNG from a Provincial Delegation of Canada to an international community dependent on the Generalate. Already in fact “an international community” of Canadians, Indians and Indonesians, this mission is actively open to receive confreres from other countries. The missionary fire is not out yet here; in fact a whole new generation of missionaries is at work with the original energy and boldness of St. Louis-Marie.

Whenever I visit the Philippines I am moved by the Itinerant Mission Team in Cebu. The confreres undertake rural parish missions, concentrating on one parish for nearly a year, moving from sector to sector, passing each night in a different home, sharing the food and hospitality of the people. It is immensely demanding, a young man’s work – but deeply rewarding for a missionary life à la providence, dependent on the people... another taste, another proof that the original sap still flows.

But it does not flow merely in the young! As the psalmist sings, “They will flourish in the courts of our God, still bearing fruit when they are old, still full of sap, still green...” (Ps 92). My round the world trip let me visit with Fr. Arie van der Hulst in Manila before he returned to the Netherlands for medical treatment. Seriously ill, yet still luminous with faith and love, he reminded us how ten years before he answered the call to leave his beloved Africa to undertake the mission in the Philippines: availability and itinerancy at an age when most people have taken their retirement!

In Canada I visited the aged and sick confreres at Nicolet, especially those confined to their beds: friends of the Cross, the clarity of their love brightens the community and the Church. I met Fr. Henri-Marie Guindon, at 97 years old the dean of the SMM, still active and writing. Fr. Dorio-Marie Huot, 91 years old, had just finished new research on Montfort’s authorship of Love of the Eternal Wisdom. In Bay Shore, Fr. Patrick Gaffney with the help of other confreres in their late 70’s or 80’s was getting ready to send to the printer the English translation of St. Louis-Marie’s Cantiques.

At any age and in any state of health, we are called upon to incarnate the charism that God gave to Father de Montfort, which the Lord also shared with each of us. This 300th Anniversary is a gift from God to clear away from our lives whatever has become –over 25 or 50 or 100 years – distorted, leaden or dead from the original vision of St. Louis-Marie. Again, in the words of Archbishop Rouet, let us celebrate this anniversary by seeking “to revive, to rekindle the flame that still sleeps under the ashes after so many days and years, in such a way as to be dazzled by the same warmth, to burn with the same ardour and to contemplate the same brightness.”

*William Considine, s.m.m.
Superior General*

PAPUA NEW GUINEA: CHANGE OF STATUS

As you can read in the Word from Father General, the Canadian Province, which established this delegation in 1958, being unable any longer to carry the responsibility for it, asked for a change of status for this entity. This community is therefore officially established as such from 7 March 2005. The superior is to be Fr. Rozario MENEZES (India), who will have as his Councillors Frs. Richard LAROUCHE (Canada) and Mateus JUANG (Indonesia), who will also be the bursar. The agent of liaison will be Fr. Ignatius WIDODO, the superior of the Delegation of Indonesia.

OUR DEPARTED BRETHREN

Bishop Luciano NERVI Bishop of Mangochi (Malawi) (1938 - 2005)

Right as we were going to press, we learned of the death of our confrere who had just been ordained bishop of Mangochi last January 29th. Struck with cerebral malaria, he died on 8 March 2005 in a hospital at Blantyre. He was 67 years of age, 49 in Religious Profession and 44 in Priesthood. His death has been deeply felt among our Italian confreres and in his diocese. His necrology notice will appear in the next Echo.

Father Marcel PÉRENNÈS (1913 - 2004)

Died on 12 November 2004 in Quimper (France), aged 91 with 71 years of religious profession. He made his first vows on 8 September 1933. After his scholasticate, he was taken prisoner in 1940 and spent the whole of the War in captivity in Germany and Poland. He was ordained priest on 16 March 1946. His active life was very full. He was a missionary in Poitiers and in Brest-Kerinou, director of the Confraternity of Mary Queen of All Hearts, superior of Mont de Marsan and the house in Poitiers, a speaker on Radio Fidélité for six years, chaplain to the Daughters of Wisdom in La Chartreuse in Auray, where he had been living since 1969. He leaves behind him the memory of a man who was courageous in his work and faithful to his exercises of piety, particularly with regard to Mary. He died without fuss, as he had lived.

Father Lucien PHILIBERT (1920 - 2004)

Died on 17 November 2004 in Nicolet (Canada), aged 84 with 64 years of religious profession. He made his first vows on 15 August 1940 and was ordained priest on 16 March 1946 in Ottawa Cathedral. Apart from brief periods as a teacher, assistant novice-master of the Brothers, a preacher and procurator, his ministry centred mostly around parish work. He was at different times a curate in Saint-Joseph in Montreal, in Marie Reine-des-Coeurs in Montreal, and St Vincent's in North Bay; at other times a school chaplain, or in charge of the Lourdes Shrine in Vanier. From his childhood on, he suffered from a bone deficiency which made for painful progress; but the slower his limbs became in reacting, the more lively his mind became: plays on words and puns were constantly arousing smiles around him. This man who made no fuss, did a great deal of good!

Brother MICHEL (Jean-Louis JÉHANNIN) (1919 - 2004)

Died on 1 December 2004 in St-Laurent-sur-Sèvre (France), aged 85 with 64 years of religious profession. He did 5 years of study in the seminary of Châteaugiron before sickness forced him to change direction. Perhaps influenced by the example of his elder sister Marie-Yvonne, a Sister of the Visitation, he inclined towards the Montfortian religious life. He made his first vows on 19 March 1940. Apart from an interruption for 7 months of military service, his career was characterised by long stretches of community service: 10 years in Chézelles, 10 years in Celles sur Belle, 16 years at Notre-Dame d'Obézine in Angoulême, and 28 years in St-Laurent-sur-Sèvre. His activities ranged from the kitchen to the flower-beds, by way of indoor work and reception of visitors. He wanted to continue to serve as long as he could at the two community tables – in the dining room and at the Eucharist at the altar in the oratory. His whole life was characterised by this spirit of service, just like the Blessed Virgin, his model.

Father Pasquale VALSECCHI (1920 - 2004)

Died on 16 December 2004 in Redona di Bergamo (Italy), aged 84 with 63 years of religious profession. He was ordained priest on 1 March 1947. After obtaining a licentiate in Canon Law at the Lateran University in 1950, he began a number of years in teaching: first of all in the scholasticate in Loreto, then in Rome in the Via Prenestina, until 1971. At the end of this service to the province, he remained in Rome where he spent his whole priestly life, occupying posts as ecclesiastical assistant to various religious institutes, confessor and leader, spiritual director and counsellor to a number of religious communities, even though he always had a yearning to be a missionary to the poor and disadvantaged. It went against the grain to resign himself to inactivity; he then dedicated what strength remained to him to the business of prayer.

Father Jules BERGHS (1916 - 2005)

Died on 1 January 2005 in Holsbeek (Belgium), aged 88 with 69 years of religious profession. He made his first vows on 8 September 1935 in Meerssen. After three years as a prisoner of war, he took up his studies again, and was ordained priest on 9 March 1944 in Leuven. Then began his career as a teacher of French and English, a post he occupied until his retirement in 1981. He was an excellent teacher and contributed in a very personal way to the fame acquired by Montfort College in Rotselaar over the years. He was a perfectionist and a lover of nature; he wrote a small book, well documented, dealing with the trees in the grounds of Montfort College. Even his travels by moped from Denmark to Greece have become legendary. Ten years ago, the symptoms of a painful illness began to show themselves, and his state of health deteriorated over the past five years until, on 1 January 2005, he fell peacefully asleep in the nursing home.

Brother Henri-Paul GARDNER (1923 - 2005)

Died on 27 January 2005, in Nicolet (Canada), aged 81 with 58 years of religious profession. He made his first vows on 19 March 1946 in Upper Melbourne. An expert in all things well done, he developed his talents in very varied domains. He was first of all charged with the upkeep of several residences. Then he was the cook in the novitiate of the Brothers, and afterwards in the mission in the West of Canada, where he ended his stay in the role of prefect of discipline in a school for North American Indians on Vancouver Island. From 1964 until 1997, he was in Papua New Guinea, where he worked as a carpenter for 33 Years. There he constructed 56 buildings for the mission (houses, churches, presbyteries, dispensaries, etc.), while at the same time offering his services as cook to the confreres, right up the last months of his life. He had retained from his roots in the earth his love for plants and animals. He always maintained good common sense enabling him to keep situations and events in proportion. With a spirit of service at all costs, and a deep piety, he manifested a contagious good humour.

Father Jean QUENTRIC (1923 - 2005)

Died on 10 February 2005 in La Gardiolle (France), aged 81 with 60 years of religious profession. He made his first vows on 8 September 1944, and was ordained priest on 19 February 1950. At the end of that same year, he left for Haiti where he was a missionary and regional Councillor. In 1967, he finally returned to France, where he was made novice-master in Chézelles, where he stayed for 2 years. Then he took off for Spain, still as novice-master, a post he occupied until 1973. After a break as parish-priest in Île Bouchard, he was appointed to Anduze in the Gard region, in charge of a parish area. Then began the stage of semi-retirement, which took him to La Gardiolle, where he was to stay for 12 years. He was a true pastor of people, with a flair for welcoming, dialogue and goodness. He lived deeply, and shared the spirituality of the Incarnation, with so many people and under so many different skies: Haiti, Spain, the Touraine, Cévennes.

Father Lionel LOUIS (1957 - 2005)

Died on 11 February 2005 in Port-au-Prince (Haiti), aged 47 with 21 years of religious profession. He made his first vows on 8 September 1983 and was ordained priest on 21 June 1987. He worked mainly in parish ministry, as a curate in Jean-Rabel, as parish-priest of the parish of Rivière-Mancelle, and as curate in the Cathedral of Port-de-Paix, before being for a short while the assistant director of postulants in Port-au-Prince. Weakened by an illness whose symptoms went from bad to worse, he had to give up almost all activity. A musician, he established choirs wherever he went, and even composed songs himself. In his better moments, he loved to discuss with his confreres, paid attention to them and interested himself in their ministry. He had a tender devotion to the Blessed Virgin and a great attachment to the Magisterium and particularly to Pope John Paul II.

Father Jean GUÉRIN (1938 - 2005)

Died on 19 February 2005 in St-Laurent-sur-Sèvre (France), aged 66 with 44 years of religious profession. He made his first vows on 15 September 1960 and was ordained priest on 29 June 1967 in Nantes cathedral. He left for Madagascar on 24 November 1967, but in 1977 he had finally to return to France for health reasons. During these 10 years he became known as “Jean le Bon”. His health deteriorated, his heart began to play up, and he retired to St-Laurent-sur-Sèvre. In each stage of his life, Jean was able to bounce back, to adapt himself to different fields of apostolate and different situations, and to dedicate himself to them – a fine example of missionary life.

Father Giuseppe GUIDOTTI (1912 - 2005)

Died on 22 February 2005 in Redona di Bergamo (Italy), aged 92 with 74 years of religious profession. He made his first vows on 8 May 1930 and was ordained priest on 7 March 1936 in the Basilica of St John Lateran in Rome. Having completed his studies with a licentiate in theology, and after a brief period as a teacher in the Minor Seminary of Redona, his ministry was divided between Loreto, Treviglio and the Marian centre in Rome, alternating between teaching theology and Marian preaching. A brilliant missionary, and one appreciated by all for his careful preparation and his commitment, he filled various posts as superior and Provincial councillor. In his will, written on the eve of his Golden Jubilee of priesthood, he said: “Thank you, Lord, for leading me to meet up with the Company of Mary and to discover the Blessed Virgin and a very rich spirituality... I have studied and taught it, but I could have done more by word and example...” But those who knew him retain in their hearts the strength and the love he was able to communicate.

Father Marcel DEMERS (1926 - 2005)

Died on 27 February 2005 at Port-au-Prince (Haiti), aged 78, with 56 years of Religious Profession. He made his first vows on 15 August 1948 and was ordained priest on 13 March 1954. After a course in preaching, he left Canada for Haiti, where he spent the rest of his life. During half a century he worked in many parishes of the diocese of Port-de-Paix (St. Montfort, Bombardopolis, Anse à Foleur), then at Gros-Morne, in the diocese of Gonaïves, before returning to the diocese of Port-de-Paix in Chansolme. For several years now he was a member of the community of the scholasticate, where his presence and his services were greatly appreciated. Father Demers was a simple and generous man, an exemplary confrere and a pastor very near to his people. He was a practical man. In his person and in all that he accomplished, he gave much to Haiti. His death will be felt all the more, since he always seemed to be in good health, and he died suddenly after a short illness which seemed quite insignificant. He rests in Haiti, his adopted country.

PRAYER FOR THE GENERAL CHAPTER

Remember, Lord, your Congregation, which you have possessed and protected for these 300 years. Remember the young who have newly come to proclaim your Good News. Remember those who have born the heat of the day and still remain faithful to your Word.

Lord Jesus, be mindful of your Congregation. Give your Mother a company of good missionaries who will burn with the fire of your Spirit, men who are free with the freedom of your love, and whose ministry and witness will renew the face of the earth and reform your Church.

Lord, bring us together and unite us! With men and women from every nation, make of us true children of Mary. And may all the glory be given to your holy and mighty name! Amen.
